Janina K. Casper, Raymond H. Colton : Clinical Manual for Laryngectomy and Head/Neck Cancer Rehabilitation (Clinical Competence) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Clinical Manual for Laryngectomy and Head/Neck Cancer Rehabilitation (Clinical Competence):

Following a highly successful first edition, Clinical Manual For Laryngectomy And Head/Neck Cancer Rehabilitation, 2E continues the tradition of its predecessor as being an indispensable aid and sought-after reference for all voice professionals in clinical settings.

"The Singular Clinical Competence Series is designed to move each of us further along the path that leads to clinical competence. Each book covers a disorder, a clinical tool, or a specific body of knowledge that, once mastered, increases what we know, and improves what we do. Its purpose is to create competent clinicians who know the profession's current body of knowledge, have the ability to add continuously to that knowledge, and can apply it in their appraisal, diagnosis, and treatment."About the AuthorAssociate Professor - Department of Otolaryngology and Communication Sciences.
