7 of 7 people found the following review helpful. Extremely HelpfulBy Crescent HoustonI work for an endoscopy center as an insurance verifier and claims processor... I had not been working in the medical field for years prior to my current position so to say the least, I was very rusty with my skills... this book brought me up to speed and is perfect for initial learners as well as for previous medical workers needing a refresher!1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. Poorly Edited. By Catrina Donham The book has several, glaring typos and spelling errors per chapter, as well as a few exercises that have errors and typos in the answer keys. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Luv it!! By Customer I'm a student and the books I have read like stereo instructions and they don't tell you the things you really need to know. This book is easy to read and it has everything you need to supplement your learning. I'm so glad I found this book.

COMPREHENSIVE HEALTH INSURANCE: BILLING, CODING REIMBURSEMENT, 2/e provides students with the knowledge and skills needed to work in a variety of medical billing and coding positions in the medical field. Comprehensive in approach, it covers the foundations of insurance, billing, coding and reimbursement. Students learn not only the submission of claims to the insurance carrier, but also reviewing medical records, verifying patient benefits, submitting a secondary claim, posting payments and appealing the insurance carrier's decision. This edition includes new chapters devoted to HIPAA and ICD-10-CM Medical Coding, as well as outstanding coverage of electronic records. Numerous case studies and patient files are included throughout and demonstrate refunds and appeals, auditing and compliance, Medicare calculations and professionalism.

About the Author Deborah Vines has worked extensively for more than 30 years in the healthcare industry as a practice administrator and manager in physical therapy, dermatopathology, and pediatrics. She has also held management positions in the hospital setting. As director of operations for a national healthcare staffing corporation, she has traveled across the United States, working directly with physicians and medical human resources personnel to secure jobs for individuals in the medical billing, coding, and collection fields. One of Ms. Viness' mentionable achievements is that in one fiscal year, through mentoring and training, she assisted 300 recruits to find employment in the medical billing industry. This achievement led her to opening Allied Career Center in Dallas, Texas, a successful vocational school specializing in medical office specialist training. Ann Braceland, NCICS, has been working in the medical field since graduating from Gwynedd Mercy College with an associates degree in nursing science. As a practice manager, her extensive work in the field of managed care and medical billing and coding have allowed her to research and find means to inform others through her teaching of the changes and challenges that arise in the medical field. Mrs. Braceland has established and managed satellite offices in physical and occupational medicine. She is a Medicare representative with a vast spectrum of knowledge that she uses to train staff and physicians in compliance coding and billing. As director of training for the instructors of Allied Career Center in Dallas, Texas, her presentation of the material for students led to the publication of this book. Mrs. Braceland is a National Certified Insurance and Coding Specialist. Susan Miller has worked in the health care industry for 25 years, managing and supervising medical billing processes. She has lectured in a classroom setting, providing students with knowledge and skills on medical billing and coding. Ms. Miller continues her health care career in Medical Billing, providing support to staff members on billing coding guidelines.
