The book itself is structured in outline form with more detail than you need for the exam, but the questions on the dvd make this book a must! I just sat for hours doing the sample questions, took the test and passed with flying colors. 1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. This book would be great as a study tool. By RM This book would be great as a study tool, but it needs some supplemental materials with it. It does a great job as a review (just like the title states) but if you are really trying to study for the test, not just review, you would need some materials that dive a bit deeper into each area. I liked the tests at the end of the book though! 3 of 3 people found the following review helpful. Great book!! By Hillary Romack This book is great and I recommend to everyone taking the CMA exam. I studied the heck out of this book and I believe that is the reason I did so well on the exam. I tested way above the minimum passing score and I think some of that success is owed to this book! Definitely recommend!

Prepare for the CMA, RMA, or CMAS certification examination with COMPREHENSIVE MEDICAL ASSISTING EXAM REVIEW, Third Edition. The book includes test information and preparation sections, review content on general, administrative, and clinical topics, and pre- and post-test exams. As a certified medical assistant, I know that my patients are receiving a high quality of care. The CMA credential represents my knowledge and skills attained through all my hard work and studies. The physicians in my office admire and respect the extra step I took by attaining my certification credential. This serves as proof of my abilities to perform medical office procedures safely and correctly. This also reassures my physician that I am well trained within my scope of practice. I strongly encourage all medical assistants to become certified, as this shows dedication to the profession as well as personal diligence in striving to provide a high standard of care.

About the Author
John P. Cody, MPH, MBA, CMA (AAMA), has acquired nearly 30 years of health care and adult education experience. His health care experience began while serving as a general duty Hospital Corpsman in the U.S. Navy. During his military service, he completed training and gained experience as an emergency medical technician, medical laboratory technician, clinical and laboratory supervisor, and administrative supervisor. Shortly before being honorably discharged from the Navy, John completed his B.S. degree in Health Care Management from Southern Illinois University. Being a strong advocate of higher education, John subsequently completed a master's degree in public health administration, as well as one in business management from the University of Minnesota. Concomitantly, John has served as a professor of health sciences, program director, and academic administrator in business and allied health education. John lives with his family in East, Central Illinois.
