Mr. Richard E. Maxwell : Medicare Madness before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Medicare Madness:

There is so much false information being put out by politicians and supporting organizations to scare elderly persons like me. I did research using the Statistical Abstract of the United States Census to develop my data used to write this short publication. The data in the book is factual and truthful. I am showing how much trouble the Medicare program is in and I hope it will be read so that our citizens will be informed.

About the Author An 80 year old retired insurance manager and United States Air Force Navigator who flew volunteer missions to Viet Nam with the Tennessee Air National Guard. He is a detailed analyst who does extensive research before drawing conclusions. The first book published by Richard E. Maxwell was "United States - Self Destruction". The concern that he had regarding the future of our country arose from the research done regarding this first publication.
